

Going places

Remember Azmul Haq of Piyas? The guy who also owns those uptown oriental eateries in Lahore and Islamabad called Xin Hua. Well, it now seems like there's not much left for him to do in the big bad world of showbiz as he seems to be trying his hand at new prospects to expand his business to new dimensions.

Yes, the guy is said to be considering the construction of an exclusive resort in Murree housing luxury flats, and plans to open the another branch of his exclusive restaurant there. And why not, with the way his restaurants are making big bucks. A showbiz ka

sitara can easily dole out his entire pay check in a single sitting but Azmi is a guy who definitely has the flair and a head for business.—Faisal Quraishi
